John J. Barry, a senior vacuum technician who retired from the Collider-Accelerator Department on September 30, 2011, passed away on May 27, 2015. He was 66 years old.

The following obituary was published in the South Shore Press on June 3, 2015:

John J. Barry, age 66, of Medford, died at his residence on May 27, 2015. John was born in Queens, New York and was a senior vacuum technician at Brookhaven National Lab. He loved being outdoors; he enjoyed archery, kayaking, and hiking in the Adirondack Mountains, watching old movies on television, and was an avid reader. His canine companion Conan will sorely miss him. John is survived by his loving wife Lorraine of forty-four years. He was the beloved brother of Kevin, Virginia Van Noy, Michael, Patrick, Thomas and Colleen and cherished uncle to his nieces and nephews. Family and friends were received at Roma Funeral Home in Shirley where wake prayers were conducted by Msgr. John Heinlein of St. Jude's RC Church. Cremation took place at Mt. Pleasant Cemetery, Center Moriches.
