

Obituary: Robert Gottschalk

Robert Gottschalk, who was a systems engineer with BNL's Relativistic Heavy Ion Collider when he retired on June 30, 1993, passed away on January 31, 2015. He was 80 years old. His 38-year career at the Lab began at the Cosmotron in March 1955.

The following obituary was published in the South Shore Press on February 18, 2015:

Robert Gottschalk, age 80, of Shirley, passed away on January 31, 2015 at home. Robert was a retired system engineer at Brookhaven National Lab. Robert leaves behind his beloved wife Catherine, loving children Robert Jr., Christine, George and cherished 7 grandchildren and 4 great-grandchildren. A Mass of Christian burial was held at St. Jude's RC Church. Mr. Gottschalk was laid to rest at Mt. Pleasant Cemetery, center Moriches. Funeral arrangements entrusted to Wesche Funeral Home Inc., Center Moriches.