

John Boruch

John Boruch passed away on March 6, 2019. He was 99 years old. Boruch joined Brookhaven National Laboratory in 1965, left in 1971, then returned in 1977, and worked until 1984, retiring in '84 from the Accelerator Department.

His pride in working at the lab was such that he kept his ID prominently displayed on his dresser. His grandchildren insisted that the badge be on his lapel during his wake. One grandson kept it as a memento of his grandfather.

Boruch enjoyed reading BREA News, the newsletter published by the Brookhaven Retired Employees Association. He made sure his BREA membership was current so he could stay informed of news and events, and find out what other retirees were doing. BREA helped make his retirement happy.
